Tutoring Experience

In my 10 years of tutoring, I've helped students across the UK and internationally excel in LNAT and US admissions tests. With a strong foundation in law and humanities, I guide students through personal statement writing, exam preparation, and academic skills crucial for top university admissions.

Beyond admissions, I've supported A-Level and IGCSE Law students, honing their essay writing and analytical skills. My diverse experience in education has helped students build a solid academic foundation, and many of them have gone on to pursue law and humanities at leading universities.
